

Master of Arts in Italian Studies (by research and coursework)

School of Languages, Cultures and Linguistics

Translation and Intercultural Studies

The new Master of Arts in Italian with a focus on Translation and Intercultural Studies at Monash University allows students to engage in an important and growing interdisciplinary field of translation studies: from language and literary translation through to intercultural studies and the translation of cultural identity that is typical of increased mobility of a globalised world.

- Complete an MA in three semesters
- Allows students to combine thesis and coursework
- Wide range of areas of study
 - Literary and (multi)media translation
 - Intercultural studies
 - Migration studies
 - Contemporary Italian culture and literature
- Course starts in February of each year
- No course fees for Australian citizens and permanent residents and New Zealand citizens (apply by February of the year of study)
- Scholarships available for academically strong international and local students. (applications close in October prior to year of study)
- Theoretical and practical focus available
- Room to develop a thesis topic in an area that suits students' own interests
- A Master of Arts that gives you a professional edge

- Study in the School of Languages, Cultures and Linguistics – a multidisciplinary school with a wide range of teaching and research experience.

For information about Italian Studies at Monash University and current staff profiles visit: www.arts.monash.edu.au/italian.

For further information on the new Master of Arts (by research and coursework) contact Dr Simon West at simon.west@arts.monash.edu.au or visit:

www.arts.monash.edu.au/italian/staff/swest.php#contacts.

Prerequisites: an undergraduate degree with honours from a recognized Australian university or the international equivalent; a good knowledge of the Italian language (and English language proficiency for international students).

For further information on entry requirements visit: www.arts.monash.edu.au/research/graduate-research/future-students/how-to-apply/master-res-coursework.php.

