Imagining Siam: a traveller's literary guide to Thailand

Caron Dann, forthcoming 2008, ISBN 978 1 876924 62 1

A critical inquiry into Western writing about Thailand covering a broad period from 13th-century attempts to describe Siam, Western engagement in the 16th century, various European imperialisms in the 19th century, to today's era of mass tourism.

Tall tales and true: India, historiography and British imperial imaginings edited by Kate Brittlebank, 2008, $29.95 ISBN 978 1 876924 61 4

This book presents re-assessments of a number of emblematic people and events that appear within the narrative of British imperial power, written in an engaging and accessible style.

Is Japan really remilitarising? The politics of norm formation and change

Yasuo Takao, forthcoming 2008, ISBN 978 1 876924 60 7

According to the mass media, Japanese nationalism is on the rise. This book explores the prospect of Japan's remilitarisation and challenges the preconceived approaches taken by existing theories to Japan's national security.

Narrating the other: Australian literary perceptions of Japan

Megumi Kato, 2008, $34.95 ISBN 978 1 876924 59 1

The first extensive study of Japan in Australian literary consciousness, Narrating the other provides a broad chronological exploration of Australian writers' representations of the Japanese from the late 19th to the 21st century.

Malaya's Secret Police 1945–60: the role of the Special Branch in the Malayan Emergency

Leon Comber, 2008, $25.95 ISBN 978 1 876924 52 2

A major contribution to our understanding of the Emergency, this book will be of great interest to all students of Malay(si)a's recent history as well as counter-guerrilla operations. It can profitably be mined, too, to see what lessons can be learned for counterinsurgency operations in other parts of the world.

Business in Asia

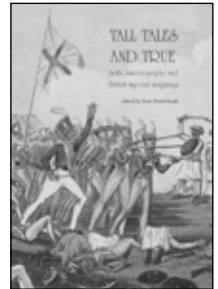

edited by Russell Smyth & Marika Vicziany, 2008, $29.95 ISBN 978 1 876924 53 9

Ideal for business and economics students and practitioners. Includes case studies of India, China, Malaysia, Indonesia, South Korea, Japan, Singapore, Thailand and Vietnam.

Indonesian Islam in a new era: how women negotiate their Muslim identities

edited by Susan Blackburn, Bianca Smith & Siti Syamsiyatun, 2008, $34.95 ISBN 978 1 876924 54 6

This book breaks new ground by examining from social science perspectives how Indonesian women negotiate their Muslim identities. Based on new empirical research by sociologists, political scientists, and anthropologists from Indonesia and Australia, it underscores the negotiations Muslim women make in various arenas.

Business in Asia
 edited by Russell Smyth and Marika Vicziany, 2008, $29.95 ISBN 978 1 876924 53 9

Ideal for business and economics students and practitioners. Includes case studies of India, China, Malaysia, Indonesia, South Korea, Japan, Singapore, Thailand and Vietnam.

Cultures and technologies in Asia: the paradigm shifts edited by Marika Vicziany, 2004, $11.00, ISBN 1 876924 31 4

This volume brings together innovative work in disciplines as diverse as international business management, human rights law, information technology, education and green chemistry. The chapters have in common an interest in how changing technological environments are affecting and are influenced by cultures and communities in Asia. Available on cd rom only.

Buddhism, ethics and society: the conflicts and dilemmas of our times
 Padmasiri de Silva 2002, $22.95 ISBN 1 876924 08 X

With an emphasis on cross-cultural understanding, philosopher Padmasiri de Silva shares the Buddhist approach to contemporary ethical issues, such as environmental degradation, racism, workplace relations, violence and suicide. This volume is useful as a guide for students, and as a modern companion to the discourses of the Buddha.

Monash Papers on Southeast Asia

67. Malaya's Secret Police 1945–60: the role of the Special Branch in the Malayan Emergency
Leon Comber, 2008, $25.95 ISBN 978 1 876924 52 2

A major contribution to our understanding of the Emergency, this book will be of great interest to all students of Malay(si)a's recent history as well as counter-guerrilla operations. It can profitably be mined, too, to see what lessons can be learned for counterinsurgency operations in other parts of the world.

66. Indonesian Islam in a new era: how women negotiate their Muslim identities
edited by Susan Blackburn, Bianca J Smith and Siti Syamsiyatun, 2008
$34.95, ISBN 978 1 876924 54 6

This book breaks new ground by examining from social science perspectives how Indonesian women negotiate their Muslim identities. Based on new empirical research by sociologists, political scientists, and anthropologists from Indonesia and Australia, it underscores the negotiations Muslim women make in various arenas.

65. East Timor: beyond independence
edited by Damien Kingsbury and Michael Leach, 2007, $29.95,
ISBN 978 1 876924 49 2

This is the most comprehensive study of East Timor since independence, examining the major themes of development, borders and security, politics and justice, resource and land management, education, and language policy. Covering the era from 1999 to 2007, and future prospects and challenges, this book is an invaluable resource for understanding the challenges facing the first new nation of the 21st century.

64. The First Indonesian Women's Congress of 1928
edited by Susan Blackburn, 2008 $29.95, ISBN 978 1 876924 48 5

Every year on 22 December, Indonesia celebrates Women's Day. The date marks the recognised beginning of the organised women's movement by commemorating the start of the first Indonesian women's congress in 1928, leading to the first federation of women's organisations. Susan Blackburn has translated the congress report into English and prefaced it with an Introduction that sets the background to the congress and analyses its proceedings.

63. Dilemmas of public university reform in Malaysia
Machi Sato, 2007, $21.95, ISBN 978 1 876924 41 6

Since the mid-1990s, tertiary education in Malaysia has experienced great transformation. This book analyses recent reforms in the public university sector, giving a clear picture of institutions that are juggling different expectations and pressures from the social, political and economic environments.

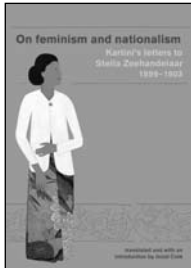

62. Violence in between:
conflict and security in archipelagic Southeast Asia
edited by Damien Kingsbury, 2005, $29.95, ISBN 1 876924 37 3

Continuing regional conflicts have raised an awareness that Southeast Asia is amongst the world's most troubled areas. This book analyses local terrorism and state repression in this populous, strategically important region.

61. Chinese Indonesians: remembering, distorting, and forgetting edited by Tim Lindsey and Helen Pausacker, 2005, $29.95
ISBN 981 230 286 7

This volume takes a multi-disciplinary approach to the subject of the Chinese in Indonesia, looking at history, politics, legal issues, culture, religion, and violence against the Chinese.

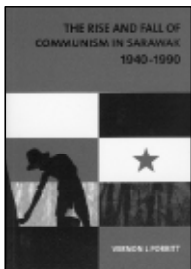

60. On feminism and nationalism:
Kartini's letters to Stella Zeehandelaar 1899–1903
translated by Joost Coté, 2005, $29.95 ISBN 1 876924 35 7

Kartini's pioneering work for the freedom and education of women has made her an Indonesian national hero. The letters to a European contemporary are amongst the most powerful of her surviving correspondence.

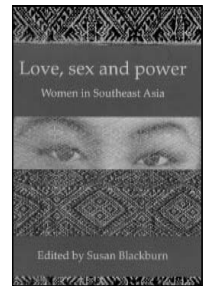

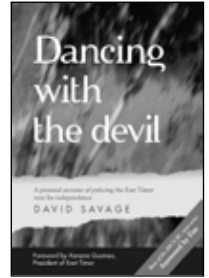

59. The rise and fall of communism in Sarawak, 1940–1990
Vernon Porritt, 2004, $29.95 ISBN 1 876924 27 6

This book explains how communism was nurtured among the youth of Sarawak's ethnic Chinese community from the early 1940s, how it grew into a powerful guerrilla movement that was finally overcome through an amnesty in 1990.

58. The return of the exiles:
Australia's repatriation of the Indonesians, 1945–47
Frank C Bennett Jr, 2003, $40.95, ISBN 1 876924 11 X

a personal account of policing the East Timor vote for independence
David Savage, 2002, $27.95 ISBN 978 1 876924 10 2
- The memoir of an Australian Federal Police officer with the UN policing team during the independence ballot in East Timor. This book is the basis for the 2006 ABC/CBC mini-series 'Answered by Fire'.
56. Javanese grammar for students
Stuart Robson, 2002, $21.95 ISBN 1 876924 12 8
- A straightforward guide to grammar for English-speaking students of the Javanese language, with many practical examples.
55. Love, sex and power: women in Southeast Asia
edited by Susan Blackburn, 2001, $24.95 ISBN 1 876924 02 0
- This book explores new trends in writing about Southeast Asian women and their experiences in politics, romance, violence, the family, and work.
53. Pink fits: sex, subcultures and discourses in the Asia-Pacific
Alison Murray, 2001, $20.95, ISBN 1 876924 01 2
- With extensive primary research, Alison Murray has canvassed changing sexualities, street prostitutes, gay styles and lesbian communities in Asia, and challenges the depiction of the Asian sex worker as helpless victim.
52. Foreign devils and other journalists edited by Damien Kingsbury, Eric Loo and Patricia Payne, 2000, $18.95
ISBN 0 7326 1183 0
- Leading academics on the media in Southeast Asia provide provocative essays about reporting on and within the region. Political control, freedom of expression and cultural difference all come in to play.
51. The dog is dead so throw it in the river: environmental politics and water pollution in Indonesia
Anton Lucas with Arief Djati, 2000, $15.95. ISBN 0 7326 1181 4
47. The landscape palimpsest
Sophia McAlpin, 1997, $11.95. ISBN 0 7326 1165 2
- This book maps the history of early 19th century British landscape paintings of Malaya, from the nature that inspired them, the artists who painted them, and the ideas and values that both consciously and subconsciously were to influence the ways in which this foreign landscape was to be seen and subsequently recorded by the colonial 'eye'.

Our new series on Islam and Muslim Affairs

British Muslims and the call to global jihad

Kylie Baxter, 2007, $19.95, ISBN 978 1 876924 55 3

This book explores the theoretical foundations of the Islamic understandings of jihad, and provides an analysis of the British government's response to 'home-grown' Islamism in the wake of the terrorist attacks in London on 7 July 2005.

Monographs

Is Japan really remilitarising? The politics of norm formation and change
Yasuo Takao, forthcoming 2008, ISBN 978 1 876924 60 7

According to the mass media, Japanese nationalism is on the rise. Tokyo's stance on national security is becoming uncharacteristically assertive. This book explores the prospect of Japan's remilitarisation and challenges the preconceived approaches taken by existing theories to Japan's national security.

Narrating the other: Australian literary perceptions of Japan
Megumi Kato, 2008, $34.95 ISBN 978 1 876924 59 1

The first extensive study of Japan in Australian literary consciousness, Narrating the other provides a broad chronological exploration of Australian writers' representations of the Japanese from the late 19th to the 21st century.

Unexpected encounters: neglected histories behind the Australia–Japan relationship edited by Michael Ackland and Pam Oliver 2007, $27.95 ISBN 978 1 876924 50 8

Telling the personal stories of Australians in Japan and Japanese in Australia, this book explores issues of race, identity and ambition in times of war and peace. The essays collected here illuminate a variety of fascinating lives and individual achievements, from trade to literature and the arts, the media and the justice system.

Changing histories: Australia and Japan edited by Paul Jones and Pam Oliver 2001, $19.95 ISBN 0 7326 1196 2

The history of contact between Japan and Australia is rich in literature, business, romance and war. Challenging the notion that these two nations have long been culturally-isolated, this volume brings out the diversity of their relationship.
